Some Things You Should Know About Taking CLEP

- Who should consider testing? If 1) you are sure the credits will be accepted by the college(s) and/or university(ies) you plan to attend and 2) you ranked in the top 20 percent of your high school class, 3) you already have college-level proficiency in certain subject areas, 4) you earned a Composite Score of 24 or above on the ACT test; or 5) you have earned an ACT score above 24 on the ACT area most directly related to the CLEP Examination, you should consider taking these exams.
- Study materials for CLEP are available in many libraries, bookstores, and the College Board website <https://clep.collegeboard.org/earn-college-credit/practice>. You may order a copy of The Official Study Guide for approximately $25 by calling 1-800-323-7155 and charging it to your major credit card. A reference copy of The Official Study Guide is in the Fort Dodge Academic Resource Center.
- Test scores are normally reported back to the student on the testing day.
- Repeating an exam is possible after a three month waiting period.
- CLEP MAY NOT SERVE AS A REPEATED COURSE. A student may not earn credit by examination for a course in which he/she is currently enrolled, nor an equivalent course previously attempted or completed.
- CLEP MAY NOT SERVE AS CREDIT FOR A LOWER COURSE ONCE YOU'VE TRANSCRIPTED CREDIT FOR A HIGHER LEVEL COURSE IN THE SAME DISCIPLINE.

Use of CLEP at Iowa Central Community College Each college and university must decide how to apply CLEP credit. Iowa Central Community College follows the guidelines of the agreement between the Regent Universities and the Area Colleges (see p. 2). That policy dictates cut-off scores and credit granted.

- A maximum of 30 semester hours of CLEP credit will be granted by Iowa Central.
- For questions about applying CLEP credit toward Iowa Central graduation, see the Iowa Central Registrar.

Transferring Credit Most senior colleges will accept CLEP from the Iowa Central Community College transcript of student grades, but transfer applications of CLEP credit should be discussed with an Iowa Central Community College Advisor and the Admissions Office of the senior college.

Advanced Placement Program (AP)

Iowa Central offers its students the opportunity to earn immediate college credit by demonstrating academic proficiency. Credit granted by examination will be indicated on the student's transcript with a T (Credit by Examination). Credit by Examination is only available when duplication of a college-level course does not exist.

- ❑ High School students may earn credit through the Advanced Placement Program. Students must achieve scores of 3, 4, or 5 in order to qualify.
- ❑ Students intending to transfer should talk with the department chair at the four-year college or university they plan on attending about their AP policy. Some universities require a copy of the essay portion of your test plus a personal interview to determine the amount of credit to grant.
- ❑ Iowa Central Community College will grant the same number of credit hours that your four-year college will allow. This procedure eliminates the problem of Iowa Central awarding more semester credit hours per course than will be accepted by your university. Iowa Central does not charge a fee to put Advanced Placement Credits on transcripts.
- ❑ Note: No agreement for Advanced Placement exists between Iowa Central and the Regent Universities. Please check the Regent Universities' transfer policies well in advance of your transfer.
- ❑ AP exams are administered each May in many high schools. Check with your guidance counselor for more information, or write to College Board Midwestern Regional Office, Suite 401, 1800 Sherman Avenue, Evanston, Illinois, 60201-3715.
- ❑ To obtain your Advanced Placement transcript, please go to: <https://apstudent.collegeboard.org/home>

Credit for Prior Learning (formerly Advanced Standing)

Iowa Central offers its students the opportunity to earn immediate college credit from prior learning experiences. Credit will be indicated on the student's transcript with an L. Credit for prior learning is only available when duplication of a college-level course does not exist.

Examinations are available for individual courses allowing students the opportunity to test out of courses in applied sciences and technologies programs. Please contact your Program Coordinator for more information.
